Mike,
You're
a great football player - keep up the good work and enjoy playing football this year. Hope
to see you next year.
Best of luck always
Love,
Melanie Bly

Dear Mike,
You are a great football player and have been enjoyed having you
this year. See you
next year.
Love ya
Pam Ja

Mike, You are
a great football
player. You have also been a lot of fun. Be Good, and don't be too mad that we turned you down. We still like you alot.
Good luck in football!
Bicky

It's been fun trading licks with you this year.
Will have to do it some more next year. Good luck on the rest. (Except with us)
Gary
Steve
Mike

You're been a great guy to have
in phys. ed. this year.
Always to see
a little coat.
Ray M.

So a great guy.
It's been fun
knowing you
this year.
Lots of Luck
Bennie
Barrie

Mike
It has been a great year for me and I hope for you. Keep lifting those weights and get ready to knock or rack some bods. Good luck in baseball.
Billy

Mike,
It's been fun this year in 2nd. See you next year. See you this summer.
Good luck → Johnny Lee

Mike
To a great tackle on the football team and a nice guy
Ronnie

You're one of the greatest guys I know. Hope you make first string in football next year. See you in baseball.
Mike

To a real good friend
Lots of luck.
Arthur Fraser

To one of the greatest friends I know.
Be good.
Good luck in the future
Larry

To Mike-
One of my nicest students
See you
next year-

The Cedar Cliffs
look down on the fairest
and the best
school of all;
They echo back the songs that we sing them,
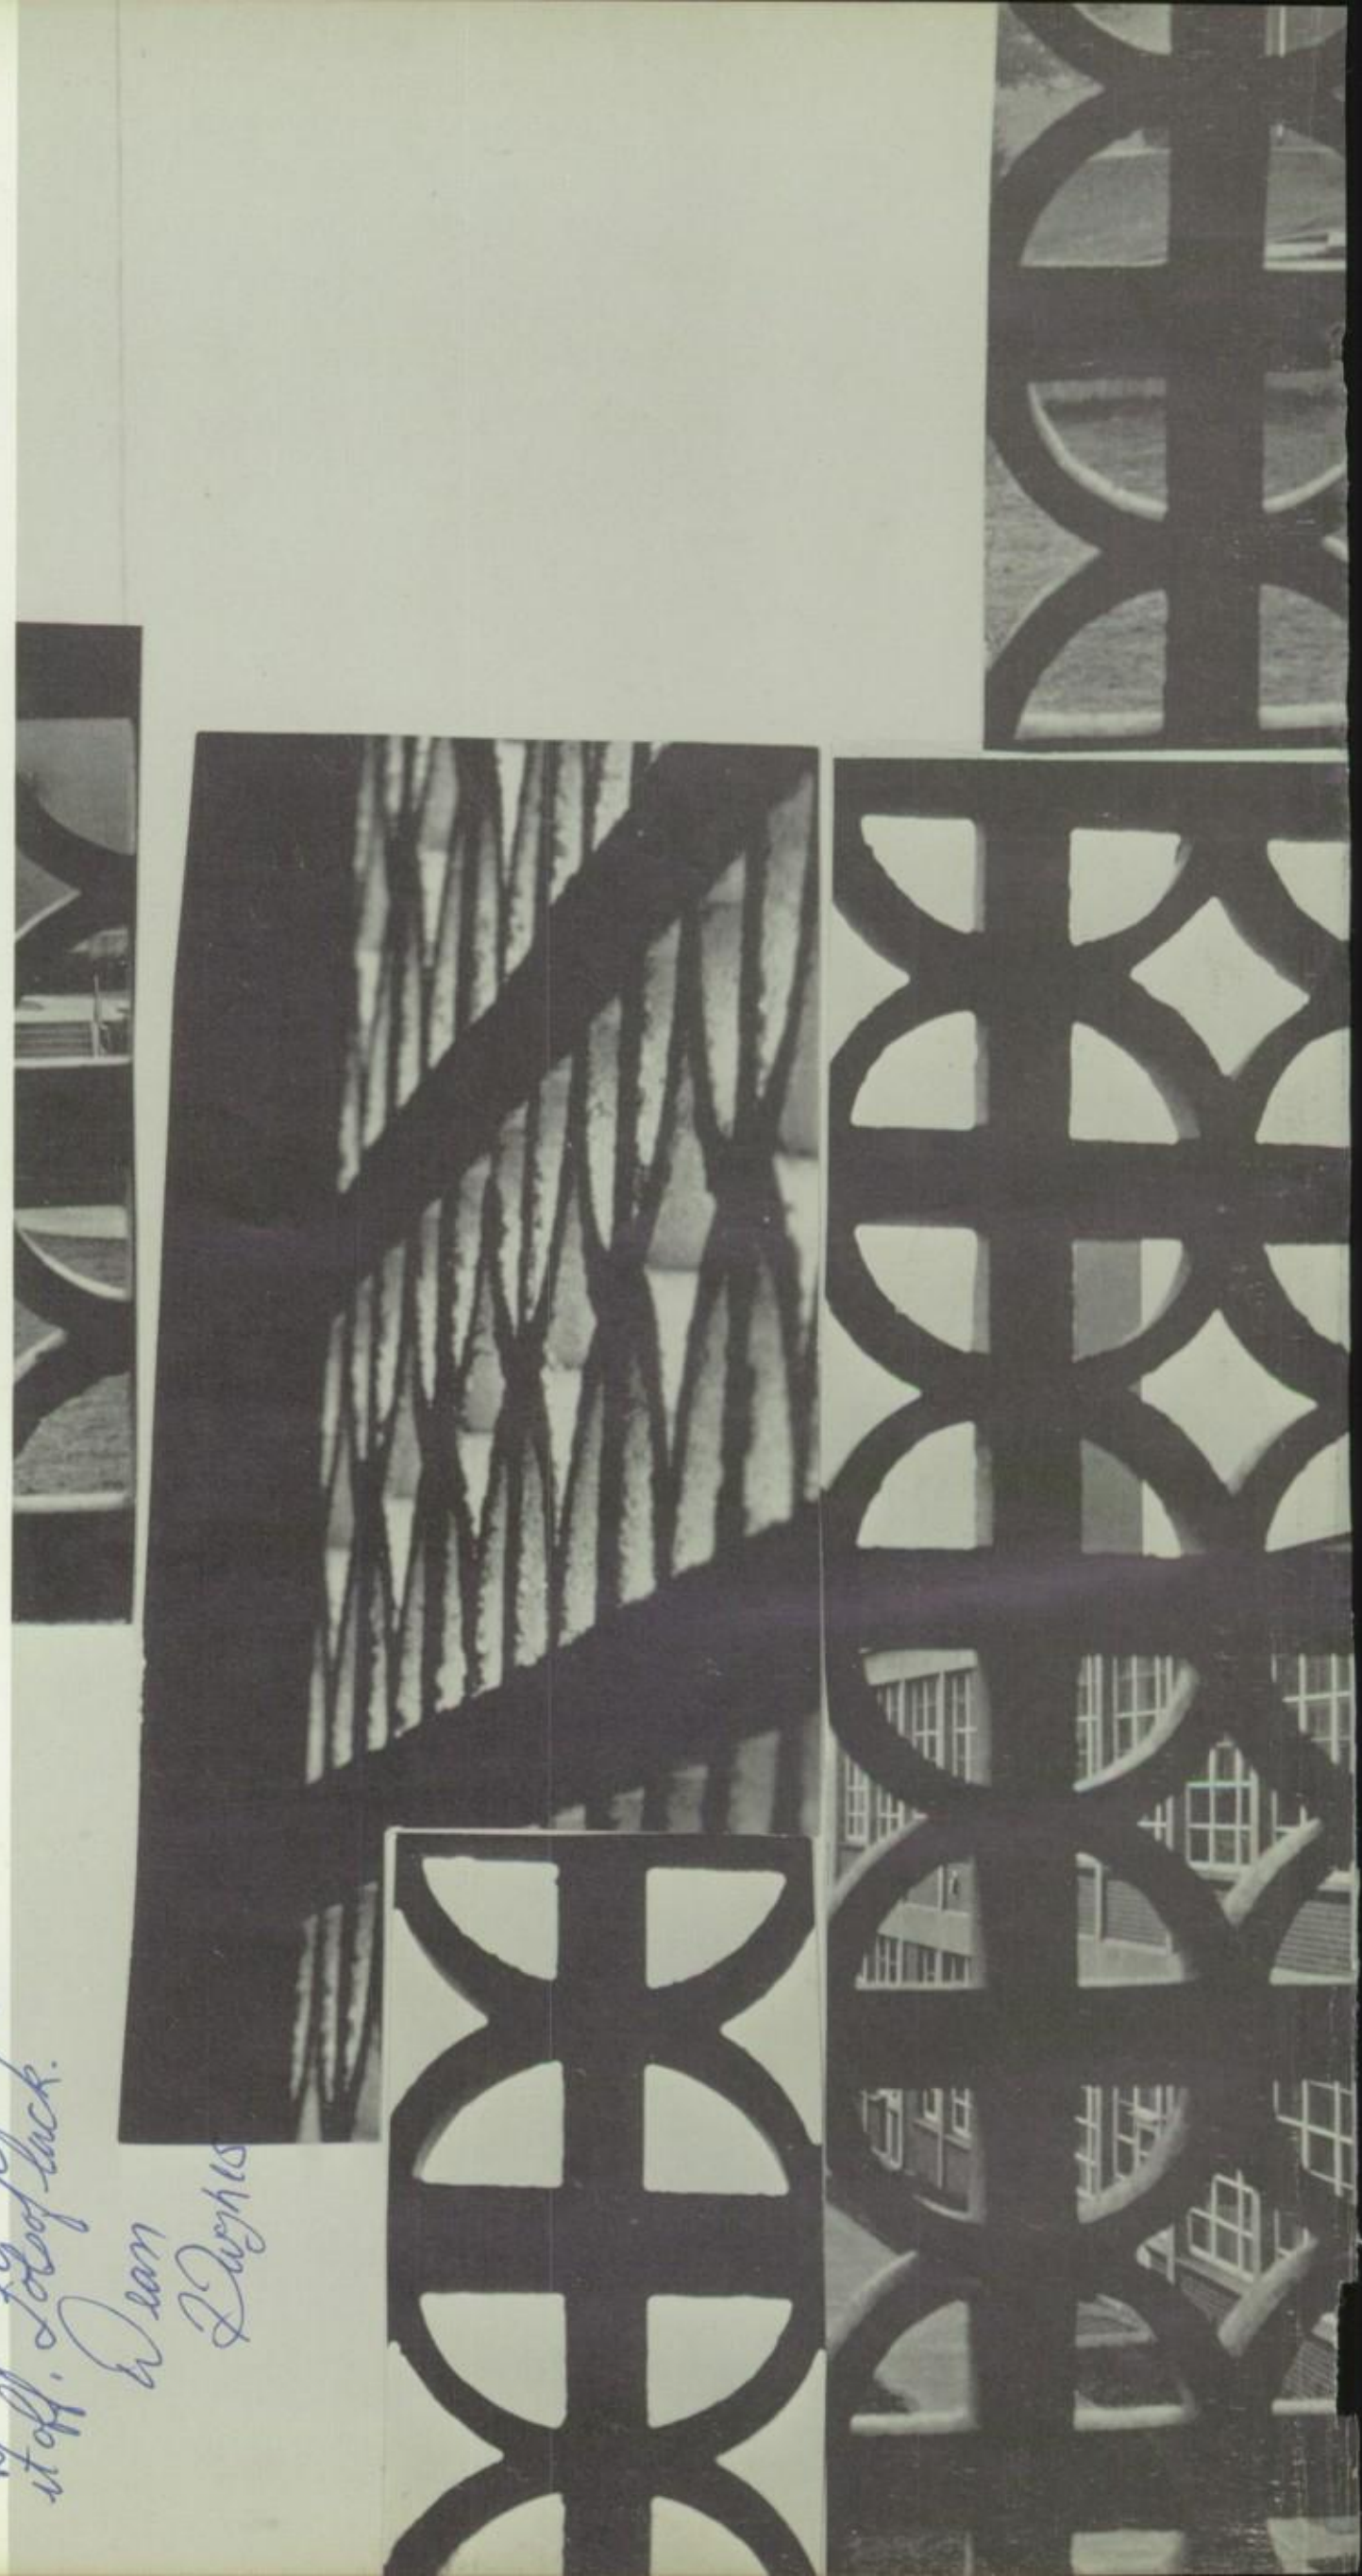
and
loyally call . . .
the mountains . . .
the valleys . . .
the home . . .
and the throng . . .
All
are for you,
Dear Old Reynolds—
keep your heart
brave
and strong.



Mike
It's been good knowing you this year in P.E. I hope
to see you next year
Old Pal. Take it easy.
If you get any more stuff. Good luck.

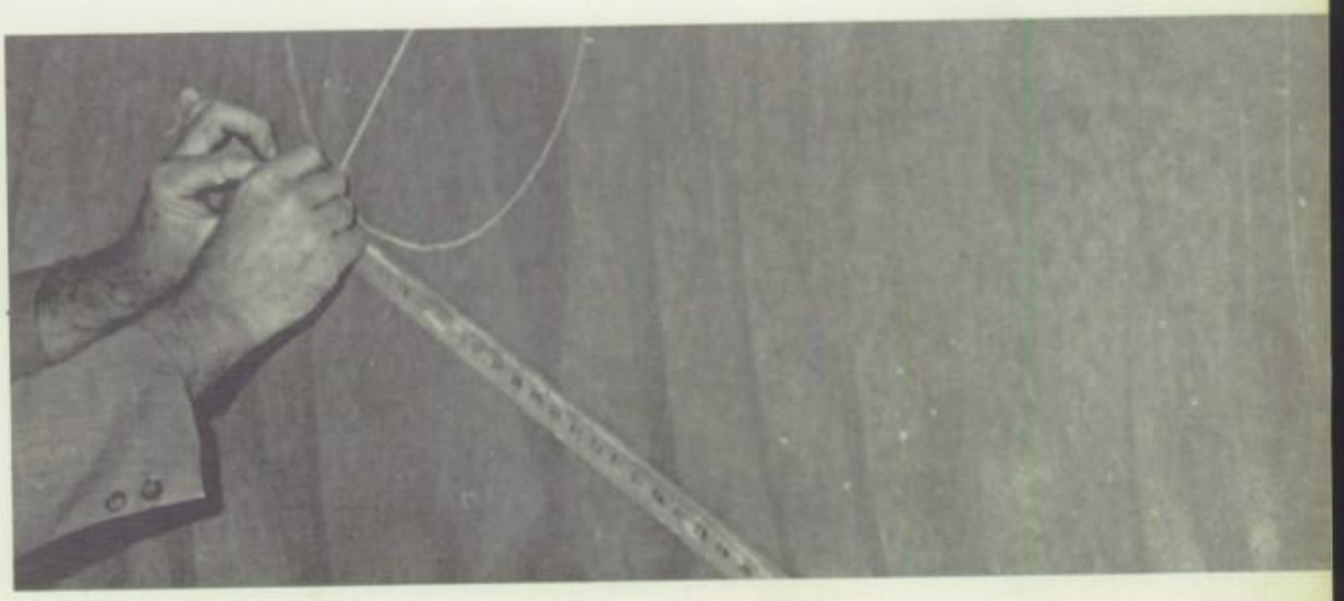
We dedicate this yearbook to . . .



A teacher . . .
an instructor . . .
one who explains "modern" theories, and complicated concepts . . .
Teaching in the hope that one student, sometime, will truly learn and understand — this makes it all worthwhile . . .
The long day that doesn't last just from 8:30 to 3:10 . . .
The Booster's Club . . .
Coaching . . .
The hours of planning, checking, searching for a new, more understandable approach to a problem . . .
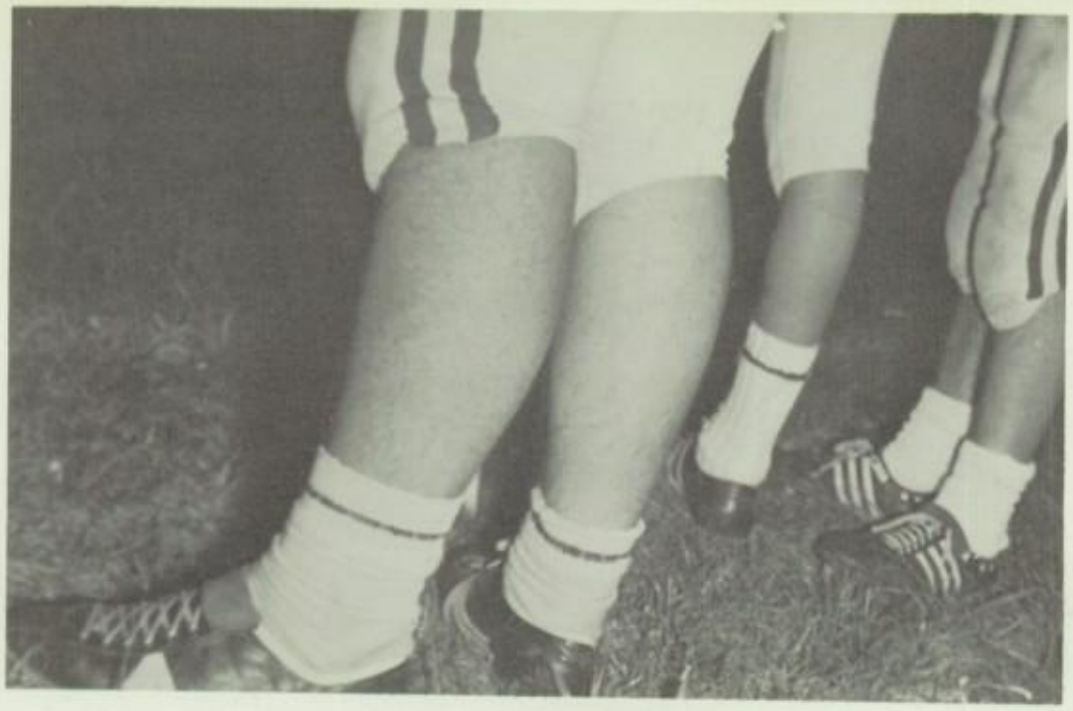
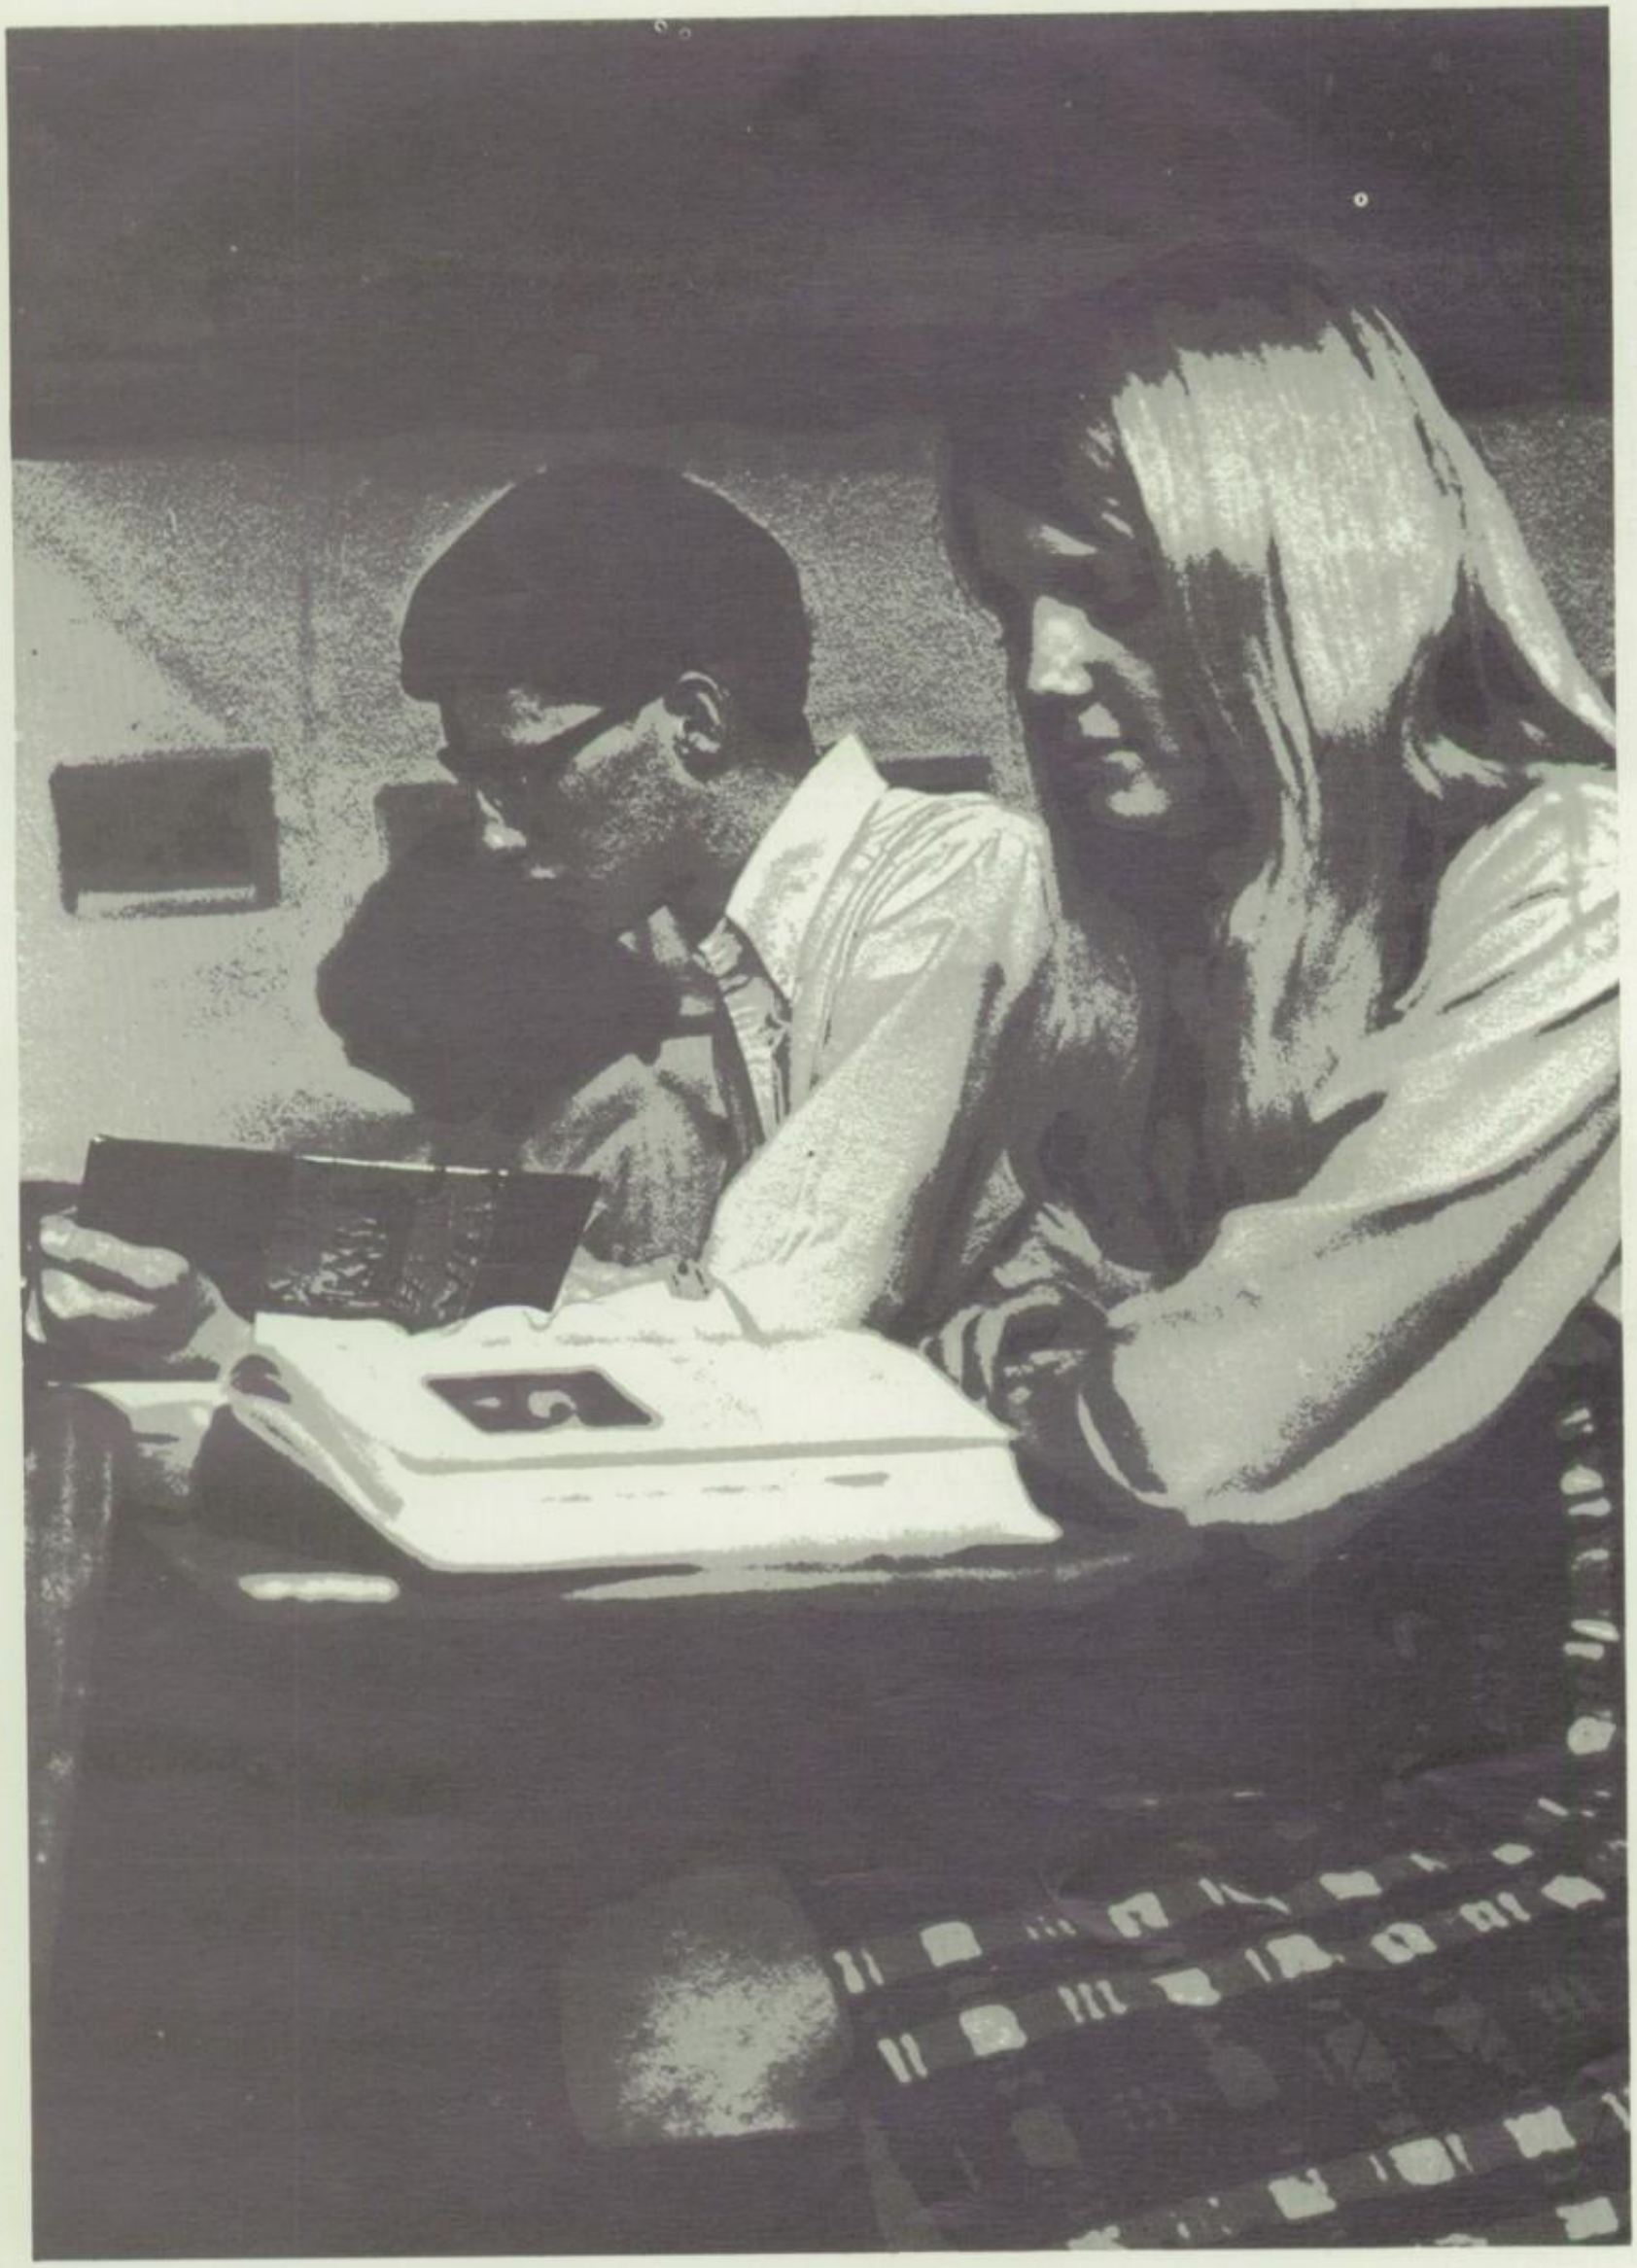
a director, a guide . . .
a steady, stable influence . . .
a leader . . .
a life dedicated to the high goal of understanding —
Education in the true sense of the word.
The Annual Staff of the CEDAR CLIFF ECHOES, nineteen hundred sixty-nine, proudly dedicates this journal of thoughts and happenings to . . .
Mr. Howard W. Barnwell.



When you walk through a storm . . .
Hold your head up high . . .
And don't be afraid of the dark;
At the end of the storm . . .
Is a golden sky . . .
And the sweet silver song of a lark.
Walk on through the wind . . .
Walk on through the rain . . .
Though your dreams be tossed and blown;
Walk on, walk on . . .
With hope in your heart . . .
And you'll never walk alone —
You'll never walk alone.



CLASSES

I, a Freshman . . .
exault in my beginning with the "big kids" . . .
quietly wondering if my newness will ever slide into the casual glory that comes from "a sense of belonging" . . .
the day my name is pronounced correctly and I am noticed as more than the third seat back, left row, on the seating chart . . .
my singular voice blends into the voice of the school at pep rallies;
I make a good and acceptable noise . . .
competition, my skill is tested, the team is chosen, I'll make it next year . . .
eager to excell yet justifying my inability to fully understand because,
"I'm still new" . . .
tomorrow I'll be a leader,
today let me slip into the security of the group . . .
tomorrow I'll be the creator, today let me become accustomed to new tools that will let me create . . .
tomorrow my vision will cover wide horizons,
today let me see that which is directly in front of me . . .
I begin, a good new beginning, so much a Freshman . . .

We, the Sophomores . . .
seriously laugh at our immaturity,
pretend to know the world,
and paint ourselves green and white because R.H.S.
is ours . . .
we belong . . .
now there is the scholarly approach to academia . . .
science becomes strangely sophisticated and curiously we open the belly of a frog . . .
there is potential now in our awkward agility, varsity sports recognize us . . .
our academic prowess stands waiting for a chance at spring Beta tapping . . .
we have inherited the spirit of R.H.S.
we realize our minds but don't unleash them fully . . .
we grow, puzzling at new ideas but holding tightly
to our own old silly thoughts . . .
we realize action and shakily move into it . . .
we are "wise fools", we Sophomores . . .

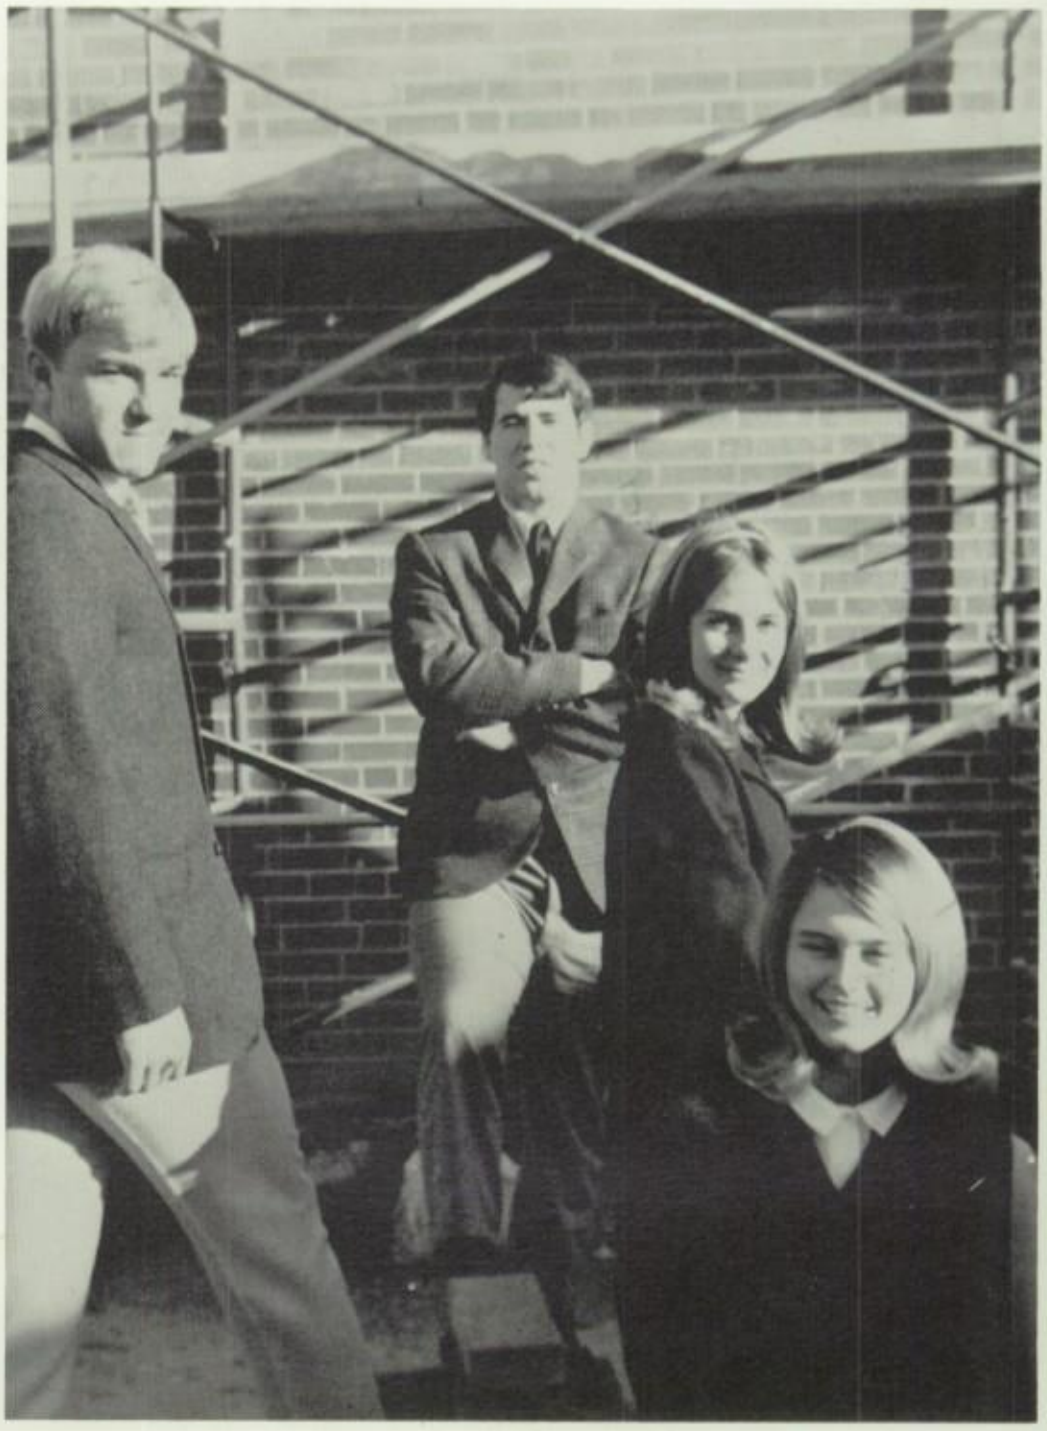
Call us Juniors . . .
with proud new responsibilities . . .
realizing now, the division of the individual from the group . . .
credit the name of an outstanding Junior athlete, however, knowing the importance of advancement as a team . . .
Student leaders stand out, but goals are achieved through the work of the members of the group . . .
realizing now, accomplishments made through team efforts in meaningful organization . . .
we are bound together by studying the literary and historical heritages of America . . .
we are bound together by the organization of the Junior Class . . .
we anticipate class rings on our hands as we are fitted with those different sized sliver bands . . .
we guard the secrets of the best Junior-Senior yet . . .
we sell magazines and more magazines . . .
we compete with Seniors in a beautification project . . .
we revel in our Junior greatness, we Juniors . . .



JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS
President — Alan Gosnell
Vice-President — Alan Sawyer
Secretary — Ruthie Reed
Treasurer — Faye Bailey

The Junior Class Officers, through the Junior Class, were competing with the Senior Class in a campus beautification project. These officers, chosen by the Junior Class, headed the magazine sale and were the chief planners of the Junior-Senior.

The sound of SENIOR;
Say it slowly,
because it is a good and solid sound . . .
it means the culmination of a trip that started twelve years ago . . .
we are the "big guys" now . . .
but even from our wild, wonderful, pedestal position,
the sound of "Senior," said slowly,
is sentimentality,
is reflection . . .
A "Senior sound" holds a special quality . . .
it is the sound of "Senior" in front of the words
"athlete," "scholar," "leader" . . .
it is the special knocking of a senior's ring
on a desk top . . .
the muffled sigh that comes from the throat of a senior looking at his college board scores . . .
it is the apprehensive sound of a senior reading a letter with a heading from a colleges' Dean of Admissions . . .
it is the apprehensive sound and noisy bewilderment of scholarships,
an academic dividend . . .
the sound of eyelids closing and yawning mouths opening in the face of BEOWULF . . .
it is a photographer asking a senior to smile, at least in the third pose . . .
it is the new sophistication of a totally "senior" personality . . .
an invitation to the Junior-Senior, where senior means guest of honor . . .
it is the quiet rustle of a graduation gown and the awkward swing of a green and white tassel . . .
it is the singing of the Alma Mater — for the last time . . .
and then, perhaps . . .
silly tears . . .
nervous laughter . . .
and Winston Churchill saying to a Reynolds Senior . . .
"This is not the end or even the beginning of the end.
But it is the end of the beginning."

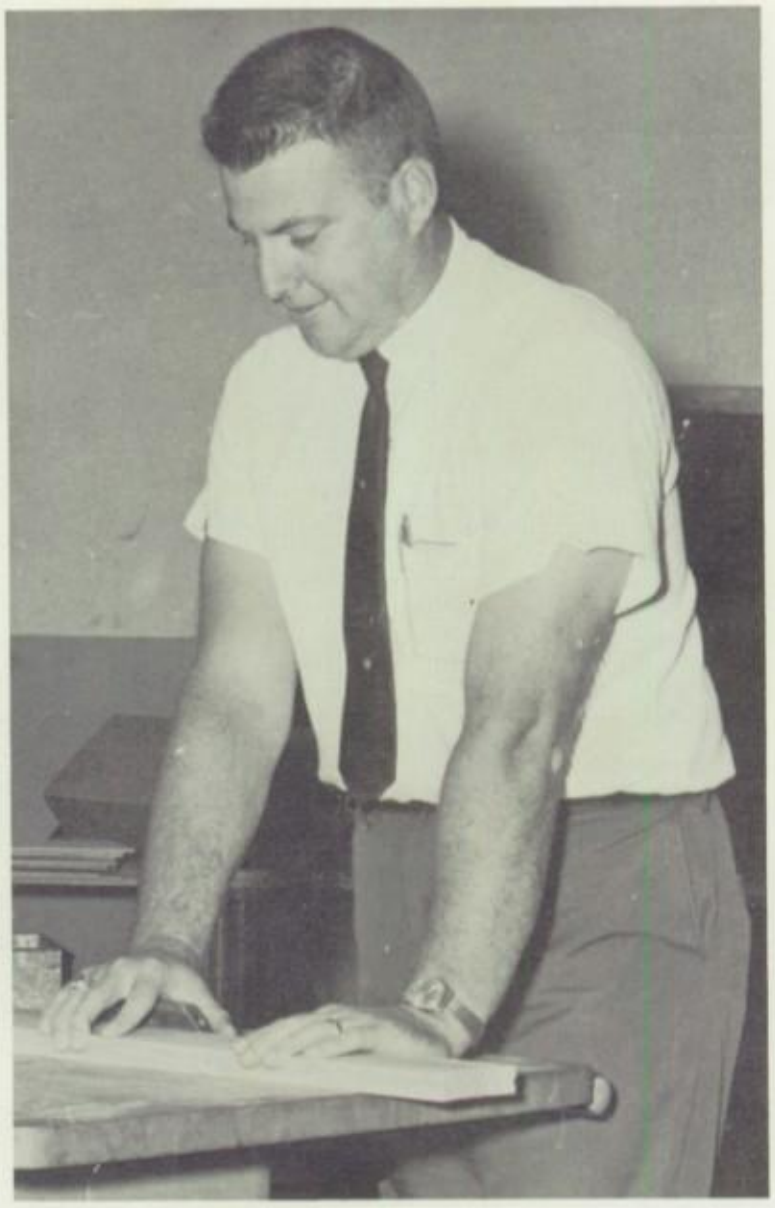
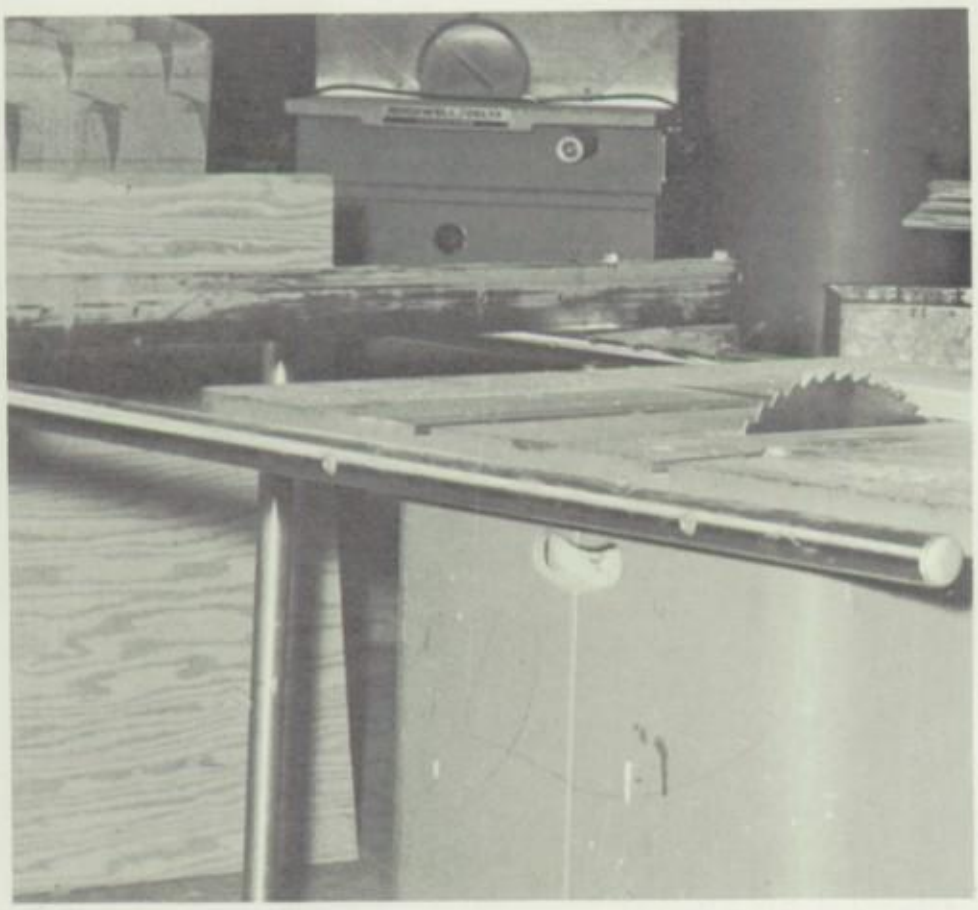
Agriculture

Guidance in farming, teaching new agricultural methods, and a chance to apply these techniques are the areas developed by the Vocational Agriculture Department. Supported by both state and federal funds, the Agriculture Department makes an effort to prepare young men interested in farming and farm related work.

This vocational area of our curriculum has been expanded in the past few years to not only include basic knowledge about farming, but also the more specialized fields of horticulture and animal husbandry. This course even offers an opportunity to do carpentry and mechanical work on the delapidated, but greatly revered tractor!



Mr. Ralph Roberts
B. S. — Agricultural Education
Clemson University



Business Department

The Business Education Department is perhaps the most thoroughly developed department at A. C. Reynolds. The student as a freshman may begin a four year course of study at the end of which he receives a diploma credited with his work in business education.

Students in the General and College Preparatory phase of the curriculum may participate in the specialized courses of shorthand and typing which will benefit them in careers after graduation.

Mr. Wade Hampton, the head of the department, also serves as school treasurer. He struggles to match incoming bills with outgoing funds.

Mars Hill College

Music is offered in the forms of Band and Glee Club. This department devotes its time to developing the musical talent of the students interested in this field of study. It also provides musical entertainment for various school functions.

Home Economics

Directing personal improvement and developing an understanding of family life is the job of the Vocational Home Economics Department. Culinary arts, sewing, home management, and personal grooming are but a few of the phases which comprise the first two semesters of Home Economics. Upon completion of this basic course, the prospective homemaker may further advance her domestic knowledge with either one or two more years of advanced, more complex study.

Library

The simplest definition of a library comes from the word liber, which means book. In our world today men share their ideas in many ways, and libraries must provide the new means of communication. Our library at Reynolds has not only books, but also magazines, pamphlets, phonograph records, tapes, and filmstrips. Mrs. Jacobson serves as the coordinator between the county film library and our school. Our library services are dedicated to preparing today's youth to meet the challenges of tomorrow.

Mr. James F. Blakenship
M. A. — Drivers Education
Appalachian State Teachers College

According to the North Carolina State law, all prospective sixteen-year old drivers must participate in a drivers' education program. Such a course is offered at Reynolds as a convenience to its students. The actual classwork phase consists of learning specific safety rules, and the fundamental mechanics of a vehicle. This knowledge is put into practice in the second phase — "behind-the-wheel driving."

The driver learns to capably maneuver an automobile in a variety of circumstances, and is able to make on-the-spot decisions. This vital program of Drivers' Education is supported by the state through a fee added to each license plate that is purchased.

Drivers Education

English Department

The ability to communicate . . . expressing one's thoughts clearly and in good . . . speaking, reading, original compositions, and yes, even term papers and a multitude of themes are only a few components of the subject English. The student is lavished with correct grammar and a comprehensive study of literature for four years, emerging as an articulate scholar, regardless of sentences sprinkled with too many commas, forgeting the relative pronouns in alphabetical order, or the occasional "ain't" which only serves to flavor his dull sentences. All is not, however, in vain. During these four years, the student has developed and advanced his basic foundation in English, thus having a foundation in all other fields, for without an understanding of the English language and its complexities all other subjects are undecipherable.

RHS HOMECOMING '68

October eighteenth was a "night to remember" for Kathy Enright, too. This was the night when she received the honor of being crowned Homecoming Queen. The joy, excitement, and sentimentality of the night became hers in a very special way. Our football players proved that Kathy was truly the "feminine hero" of the football field with much vim, vigor, and a great voice!.

The night was dark and rainy — a Homecoming to remember at R.H.S.! The players were discouraged, the excited Homecoming finalists had "fallen hair," and the observers were a tad wet, as they sat waiting for the kickoff. But the depressing atmosphere changed. Although the downpour increased, and the field became one gigantic mud-hole, our Homecoming truly became a wonderfully exciting evening, thoroughly enjoyed by all. After the initial soaking, all took the rain in good fun. The joy was heightened by the rocket team pulling a 7-0 victory over the Owen Warhorses.

Because of the bad weather conditions, the crowning of the Queen was done in the gymnasium after the game. The careful observer noticed people washing off their muddy shoes in puddles of water, or actually small lakes. The umbrellas were closed, rain hats removed, and a surge of excitement was felt while waiting for the announcement of the Queen, and Maid of Honor. After what seemed an eternity (about fifteen minutes) Miss Kathy Enright was crowned Homecoming Queen for the 1968-69 school year, and Miss Debbie Maxwell was named Maid of Honor.

Homecoming was over — the last one for the Senior Class, the first for the Freshmen — but what a Homecoming it had been. The entire assembly of people felt closely connected by the evening. One even saw a couple of tears on certain people's faces, or was it just a left-over rain drop?

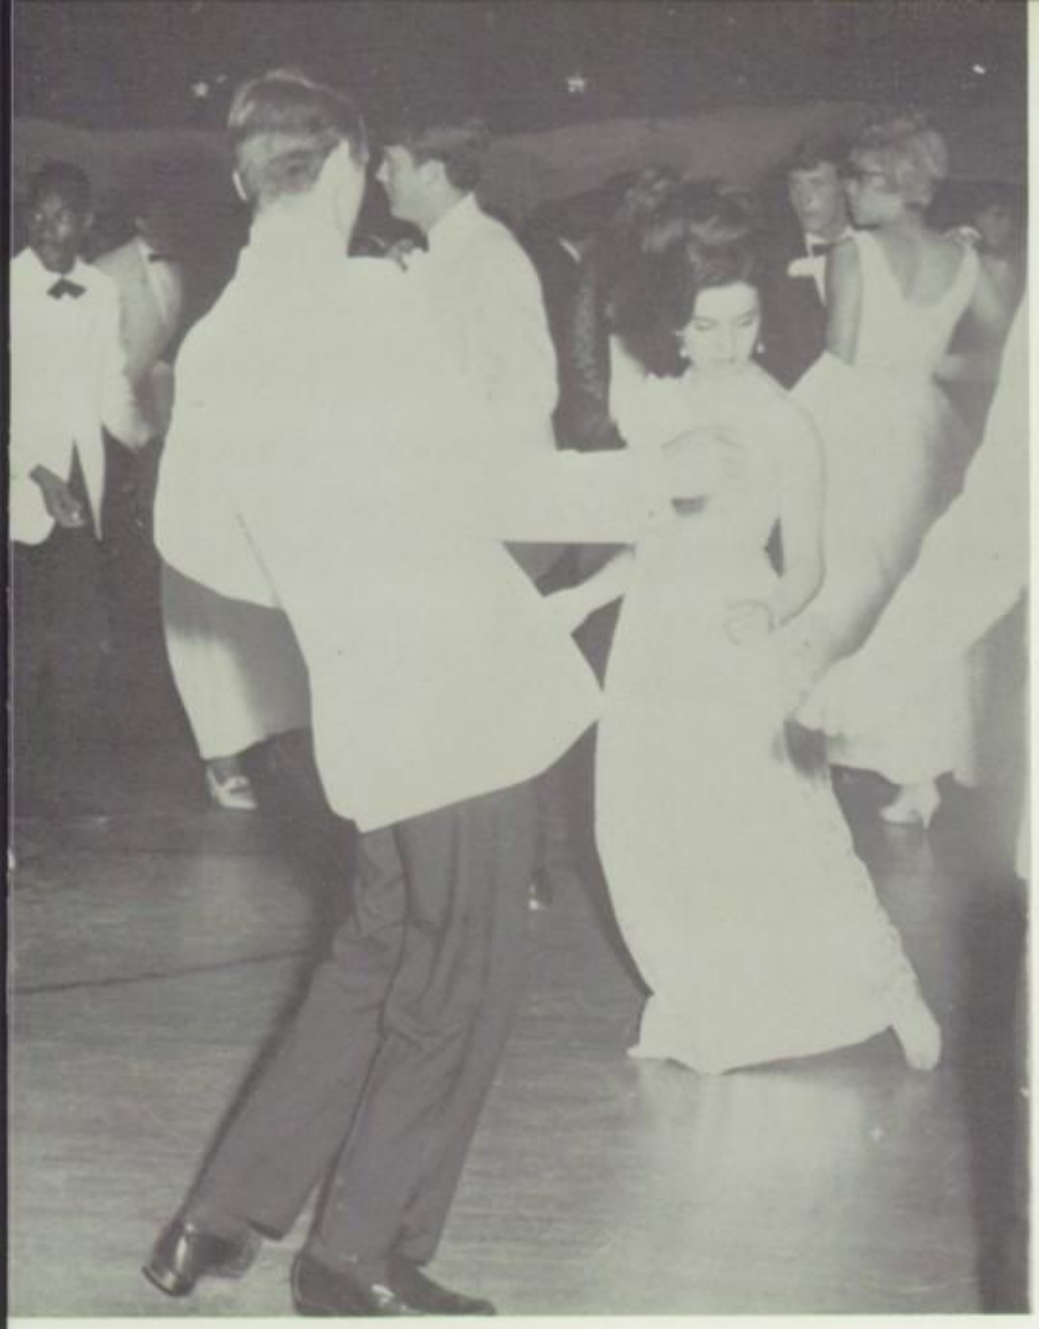
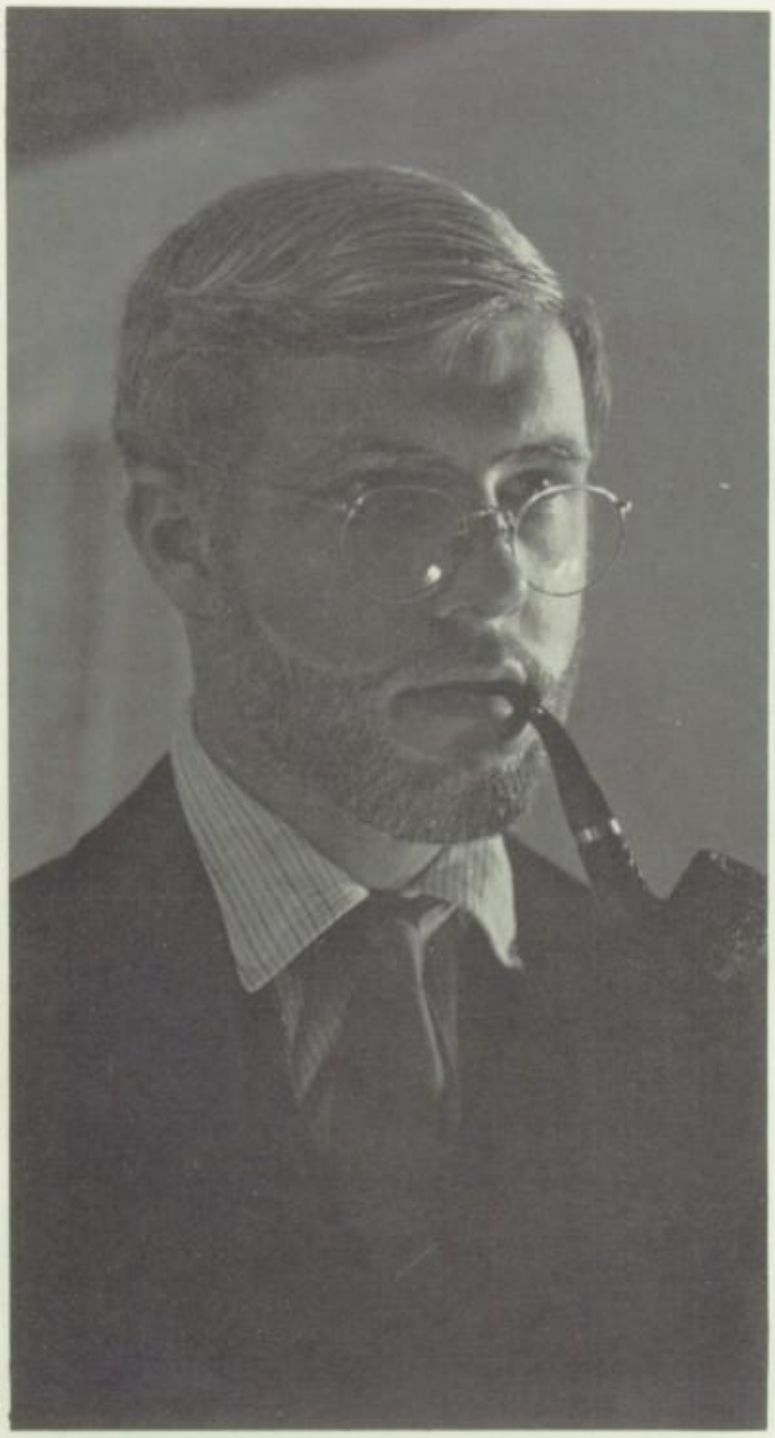
MAGIC MOMENTS

"A Night to Remember"

"A Night To Remember", the theme of the 1968 Junior-Senior Prom, was truly a memorable event. The gymnasium, decorated by the Junior Class, under the supervision of Mrs. Iris Curry, presented a New York penthouse overlooking the New York skyline. Music presented by Maurice Williams and the Zodiacs created a most enjoyable atmosphere. To those who attended, a memory will remain forever.



"Meet Me in St. Louis"



"Your daughter ran directly across my flowerbed dragging some sort of scarecrow . . . just eat a chicken heart and the next man you shake hands with you'll marry . . . I was drunk last night dear mother . . . I think she's a snob . . . I'll jump out and bite his leg."

"Meet Me in St. Louis", a comedy in three acts, was presented by the Junior Class of 1968, on May 15. Miss Modena Penland, the director, was assisted by Miss Janice Earwood, student director.

Mr. Smith's mischievious daughters cause the family lots of trouble, distress, and heartache. The girls' eager desire to stay in St. Louis for the World's Fair motivated them to create a chaotic atmosphere. Due to a misunderstanding of all the facts by Mr. Dodge, the Smith family was allowed to stay in St. Louis and enjoy the excitement of the World's Fair.

The audience's reaction proved the play to be a tremendous success.

"The Miner's Daughter", a tragic, one-act melodrama, was presented by the A. C. Reynolds Players, January 17, 1969 before the student body. Under the direction of Miss E. Robinson, assisted by Kathy Chiles and Debbie Seay, the play portrayed the life of a drunken miner in the 1890's.

Poor unsuspecting Barney was arrested for the murder of Tillie Biddle, who, unaware that the villain, Jackpot Slade, had poisoned the water, drank a glass of the lethal liquid. Sheriff Strongheart attempted to find evidence that would free Barney, in the meantime becoming attracted to Clementine. Jackpot, learning that his plans were foiled, tried to cover his vile deed by lighting the fuse to a can of blasting powder. Sheriff Strongheart, the hero, came to the rescue of Clementine and her drunken father, by throwing the fuse at Jackpot's hiding place. The villain being killed and Barney learning the evils of liquor bring the play to a close.

APPLAUSE

Rounding up a week of Homecoming festivities, the Homecoming dance honored the Queen and her court. The cafeteria was decorated using a green and white color scheme, with music provided by the "British Walkers."

The Harvest Festival, held in October, provided funds to present the basketball teams with new uniforms. Crowned Harvest Queen was Miss Diane Brinkley, and Harvest King was Gerald Lankford.

A. C. Reynolds was honored this year with the presence of "The Spokesmen" from Florida Bible College in Miami, Florida. They presented a program of Christian-folk songs. The program was concluded with a talk by the president of the College, Dr. A. Ray Stanford.

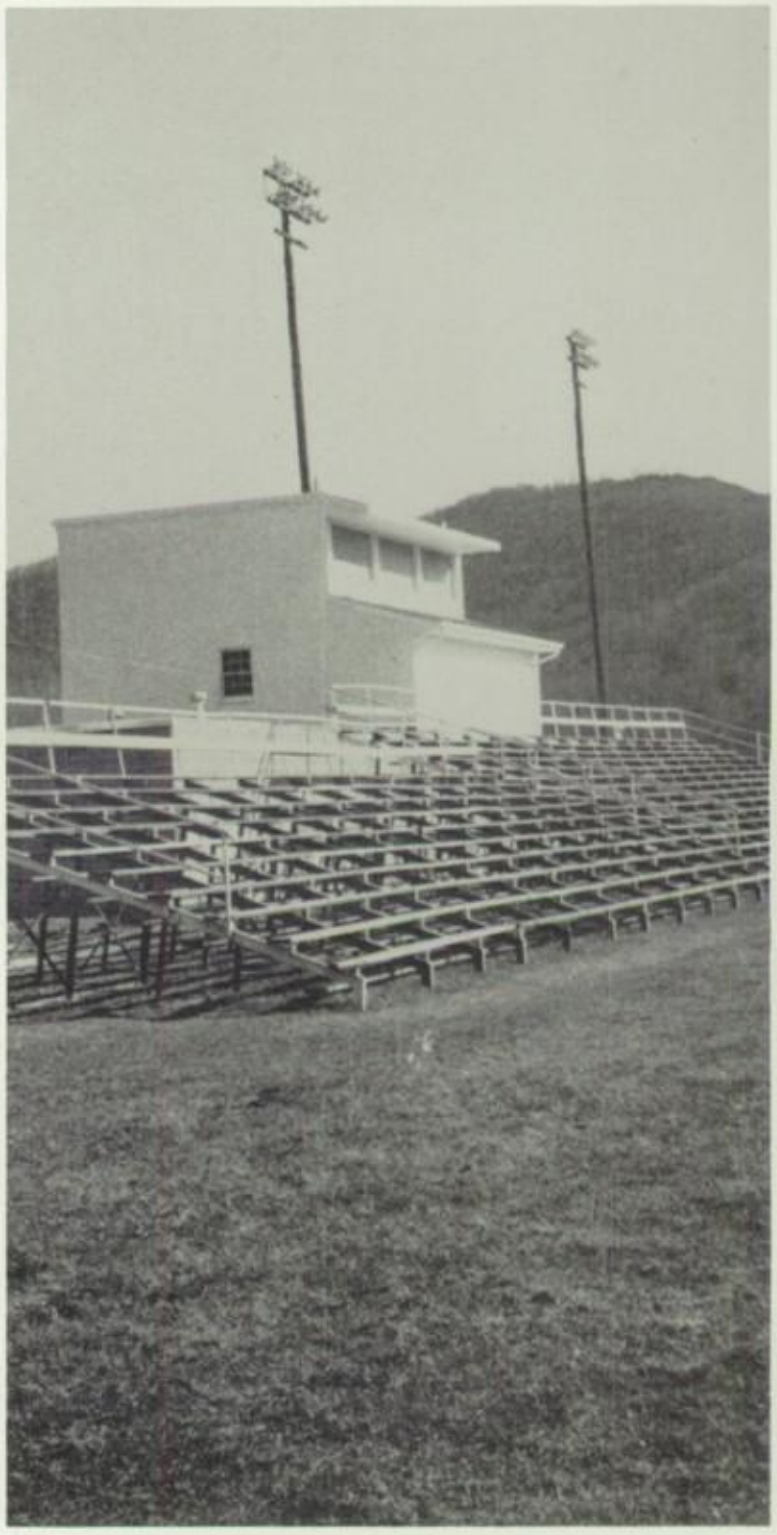
Thanks goes to the Booster's Club . . .
spending hours working in the concession stands . . .
hours at the race track, not watching, but working . . .
raising money to furnish the athletic uniforms . . .
involving the entire student body in a drive for cement blocks used in the new field house . . .
spending leisure time to benefit school . . .
for these accomplishments go our deepest appreciation.

The Booster's Club



The P.T.S.A.

A time for parents to meet with their "darling's" teachers . . .
A greater interest by the student by taking an active part in the preparations . . .
Larger enrollment and attendance because of the students' increased school pride . . .
school clubs showing parents why so many hours were spent at practice . . .
Open House to familiarize parents with school grounds and policies . . .
Square Dance Team showing how they became state champs . . .
Glee Club presenting songs on which were spent many days in class perfecting . . .
Home Economics Department showing original creations in a fashion show . . .
Dramatics Club doing a production of the melodrama, "The Miner's Daughter" . . .
Juniors and Seniors sharing the responsibility of the refreshments . . .
Freshmen and Sophomores presenting the devotions . . .
P.T.S.A.—when parents can learn where their children spend most of their time nine months of the year.

School Improvement

School Improvement . . .
A Look at A. C. Reynolds High School, inside and out:
immediate recognition of school colors by paint, banners, crest . . .
greater interest in academics by involving the student body in contests . . .
increased school spirit by building pride in the athletic and also academic, teams . . .
enforcing regulations to make this school an efficient institution of learning . . .
administrative policy of 'open door' and 'open heart' to student problems . . .
expecting the students' best and accepting an honest effort . . .
not only clean character of school, but immaculate school grounds . . .
school store furnishing school mugs, crest, shirts . . .
proposed landscaping and additional teaching space . . .
curtains, efficient PA system — additional improvements . . .
an entire overhaul of the gymnasium; floors redone, school colors displayed, "Welcome to 'Big Green' Country" . . .
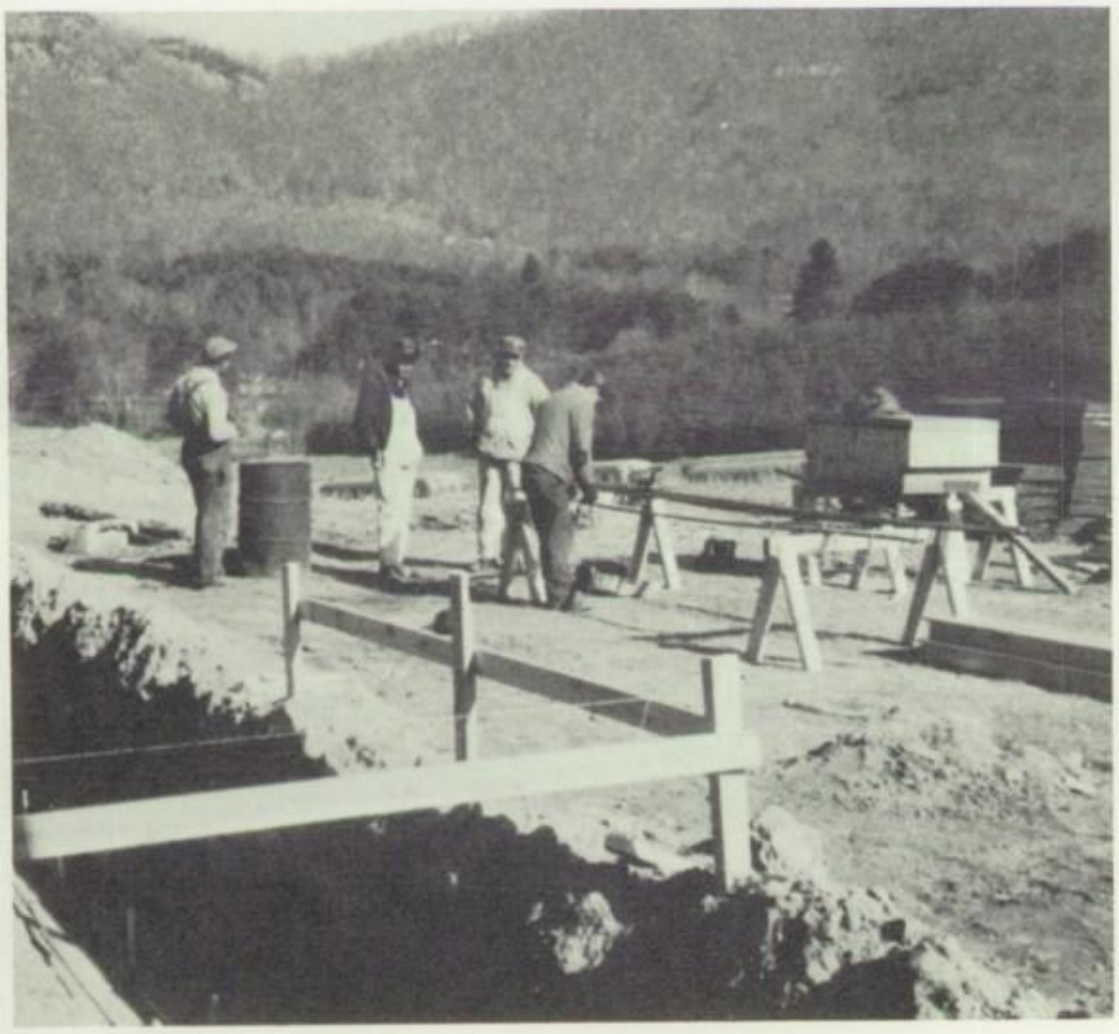
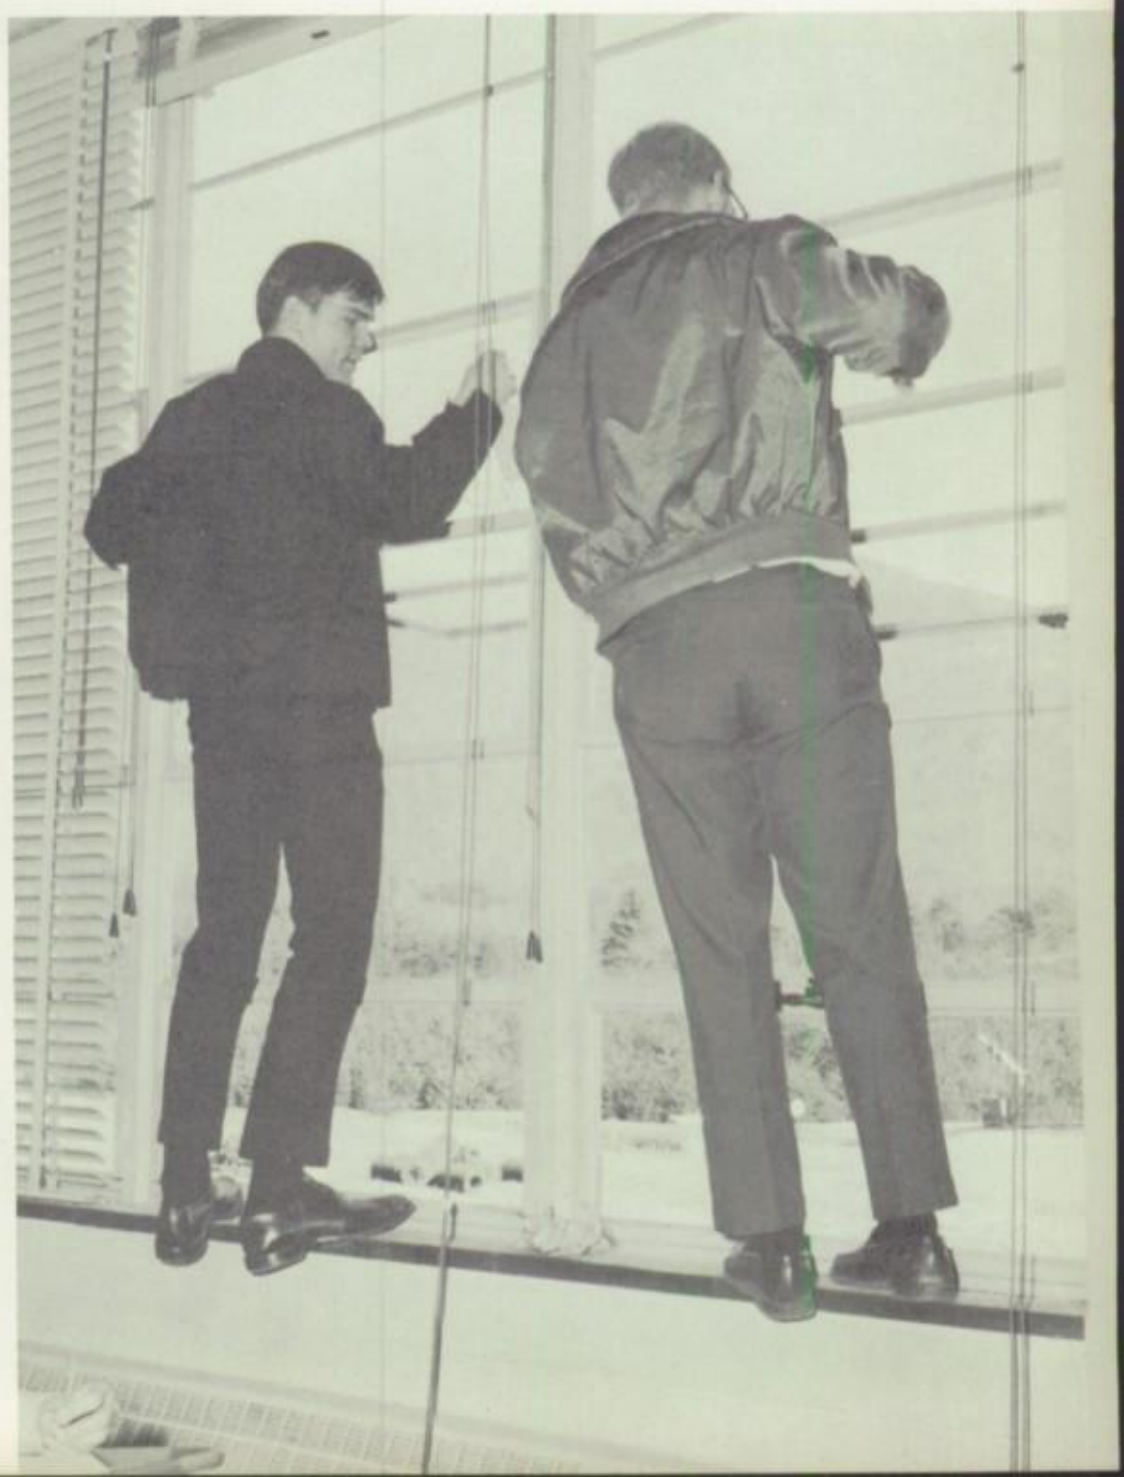
inspiration by daily devotions and pledge of allegiance . . .
not only building knowledge, but wisdom and character . . .
no individual selfishness allowed;
only pride and support of all activities concerning
A. C. Reynolds!





An idea . . .
searching for a new way, a distinct identity . . .
an impulse, often ending in collision with reality . . .
creating a journal of the year's activities from a few blank pages . . .
imagination . . .
decisions . . .
impatience, overanxiety . . .
offering reassurance, while doubtful . . .
enthusiasm, anxious anticipation . . .
and finally, tremendous relief . . . a happy feeling, yet a feeling of emptiness . . .
a job finished . . . a vague dream turned into sharp actuality . . .
a yearbook, subject to disapproval by a few, merely by its existence, but likewise, worthy of merit.
